Yanks wipe out Cong ambush force

SAIGON UPI — American troops fighting in neck-deep swamps wiped out a Communist ambush force and killed at least 46 guerrillas in the Mekong Delta today.

About 600 Viet Cong ambushed about 200 GIs making a helicopter landing into the snake-infested swamps 54 miles southwest of Saigon and the battle raged through the night until the Communists fled at dawn, U.S. spokesmen said.

American casualties numbered 18 killed and 58 wounded, spokesmen said. "The terrain couldn't have been worse," a U.S. Army 9th Infantry Division spokesman said.

U.S. reinforcements, driven back by Communist fire that battered their helicopters, had to slip through the mangrove swamp at night, chins and guns above water.

The swamp fight marked yet another defeat for the Communists in their new year series of battles in search of a propaganda victory. About 3,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been killed since Jan. 1 in fighting chiefly in the Saigon area and in the Que Son valley 360 miles to the northeast.

U.S. Infantrymen 24 miles northwest of Saigon, on the edge of the former guerrilla Iron Triangle jungle stronghold, killed at least 103 Viet Cong who charged into American artillery fire Wednesday. The vain Red attempt to overrun the U.S. Army 25th Infantry Division post left five GIs killed and 28 wounded. In Que Son valley, American troops killed 28 Communists and suffered three men slain.

In the air war, the Communists got help from the monsoon clouds hanging over North Vietnam. U.S. spokesmen said the weather limited American raids against the Communist nation Wednesday to 75 missions.

Radar-directed Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and Marine A6 all-weather Intruders bombed the Hoa Lac airfield 20 miles west of Hanoi and the Hoa Binh army barracks 30 miles to the southwest, spokesmen said.

Expert comments on Brown Recluse Spider

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The chances of anyone in Indiana coming in contact with the Brown Recluse Spider, which was responsible for the closing of a Mattoon, Ill. high school last week, are very remote, according to a Purdue University entomologist.

"One of these spiders in your home in Indiana would be a real rarity," said Tom Parker, an expert on spiders and a graduate student in Purdue's entomology department.

"Places people frequent, the spider doesn't," he said, explaining how the Recluse got its name.

Northeast in grip of frigid wave

United Press International
Storms hit the East and West today with rain, snow, sleet and cold that reached a low of 28 below zero in New York state before the sun came up.

There was an additional threat: gale warnings were in effect from New Jersey to South Carolina.

Eskimo cold held its harsh grip on the Northeast, where the predawn low of 28 below registered at Massena, N.Y., while Floridians played in sunny warmth and soft breezes. Key West and West Palm Beach, Fla., had an early morning 71.

Heavy rain pounded the coasts of North and South Carolina, expected to change to a mixture of ice and snow. Nearly an inch of rain fell at New Bern, N.C., in a six-hour period that ended at 1 a.m. EST.

The nation's heartland, thumped by snow and below zero temperatures for about a week, enjoyed a slight reprieve from the raw, rugged weather. Chicago registered 21 degrees before dawn.

A cold wave warning continued in Montana, where temperatures were expected to slide to 10 below. Great Falls, Mont., got an inch of snow in six hours, putting its total on the ground to five inches.

In Utah, highways were closed by blizzard conditions and low visibility. Salt Lake City, Utah, got three inches of new snow—also in six hours—while Ely, Nev., got an inch to raise its total to three inches.

Snow was expected to pile up to six inches in the central Rockies; a storm moving up the southeast coastal region spat out a mixture of freezing rain, sleet and snow from South Carolina to Virginia and in parts of Tennessee and Kentucky.

Heart transplant patient scribbles note to wife

PALO ALTO, Calif. UPI—Mike Kasperak, one of the world's two surviving heart transplant recipients, scribbled "I love you" on a piece of paper Wednesday night and handed it to his wife, Ferne, at his bedside.

It was the first communication between the Cleveland steelworker and his wife since his diseased heart was replaced by the smaller heart of a housewife Saturday night. A tube inserted in Kasperak's windpipe to aid breathing prevents him from talking.

A hospital statement Wednesday night said Kasperak, 54, America's first adult heart transplant patient, "continues to make progress" though still on the critical list. He scored his biggest gains Wednesday against kidney, lung and liver complications.

Doctors were still concerned about an abnormal liver function. However, they said the liver complication "shows some improvement."

Kasperak was kept in intravenous feeding and in a mechanical respirator to aid his breathing. But artificial purification of his blood and artificial respiration techniques were being decreased "to allow his kidneys and lungs to resume their function."

at the Indiana University Medical Center for rare complications of the bite in 1963 by Dr. Sherman Minton. Minton said he had a call from Bloomington 2 years ago reported a child had been bitten by a Brown Recluse. These are the only two reported cases in Indiana.

"The recluse is an inconspicuous little fellow, so we don't know how common he is in Indiana," said Binton.

One was sent in from Harrison County last summer and positively identified by Parker. It had not bitten anyone.

The Brown Recluse varies in color from light yellow to dark brown and has a violin figure on its back.

The new heart, two-thirds smaller than Kasperak's organ, functioned normally with a cardiac output of 5.7 liters per minutes and a normal blood pressure.

"These factors are encouraging signs of continued improvement although the crucial problems of rejection still lie ahead," said Wednesday's medical report.

JC Week proclaimed by Mayor Peabody

Mayor Norman Peabody today proclaimed January 21-27 as Jaycee Week in Greencastle and asked local organizations to cooperate in the observance.

He said the purpose of the week is to focus attention on young men and the work they are doing, and emphasize that the Greencastle Jaycees have done an outstanding job in many fields.

During Jaycee Week observance here, the U.S. Jaycees will be recognizing America's Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1967 in St. Paul, Minnesota.

The week celebrates the founding of the Jaycees in 1915, when Henry Gies-senbier saw a need for a young men's civic group and organized the first chapter, according to local Jaycee President Don Barnes. The movement spread so fast that in 1920, the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce was formed with 24 cities represented. The Greencastle Jaycees were formed in 1957. The name of the national organization was changed from U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce to the U.S. Jaycees in 1965 at the national convention of the young men's civic group.

Built on the solid foundation of creating opportunities for leadership training through community betterment projects, the Jaycees today, over 260,000 strong, are active in 6,000 communities in the United States. U.S. Jaycees headquarters is located in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

For the local Jaycee Club, this week has a dual meaning, in that they are not only observing the National Jaycee Week, but they are also celebrating their 11th Anniversary as a Jaycee Club.

Monday night, Jan. 22nd at the De-Pauw Union Building the Jaycees will begin Jaycee Week with the 11th annual Distinguished Service Award Banquet. Congressman John T. Myers, U.S. House of Representatives, from the Seventh Indiana District, will be guest speaker. This banquet is the Jaycees way of showing their appreciation to their honored guests, who have helped the community and the Jaycees this past year. This year the ladies are also invited to attend.

In the past eleven years there have been many changes in personnel within the club, yet all seem to still follow the last line of the famous Jaycee Creed, which states, "That service to humanity is the best work of life."

Gorham was charged with public intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Roy Buchanan, 26, Greencastle, Route 4, was jailed at 7 p.m. by Deputy Sheriff Tom Brown on a Circuit Court warrant for non-support.

Marine Corps transport plane down in Nevada

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev. UPI—A four-engine Marine Corps transport plane carrying 68 persons apparently crashed in northern Nevada wilderness Wednesday night because of icing conditions.

The pilot radioed Wednesday the craft was "dropping fast" because of ice on its wings.

Fate of the passengers and crew was not known. Their names were withheld until families have been notified.

Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., coordinating the search, said military and Civil Air Patrol planes were resuming an air search today in an area 32 miles west of this northern Nevada community.

A ground party searched during the night for the downed C54 craft. Two planes were turned back by darkness Wednesday.

The C54 transport, en route from Quantico, Va., to Seattle, Wash., was last heard from at 4:50 p.m. EST.

"We know it is down somewhere because it would be out of fuel," said a Marine Corps spokesman.

Military officials at Denver, Colo., said the plane contained members of a special team giving demonstrations at military bases in the West for a period of four days. There was no elaboration.

Buckley Air National Guard station in Colorado. The party gave a presentation at nearby Lowry Air Force Base Tuesday.

The Marines said the plane left Lowry at 11:44 a. m. Wednesday morning on the flight to Seattle.

Students return

PARIS UPI—Communist Chinese students who suspended their French studies last year to participate in Mao Tse-tung's Cultural Revolution will return to France soon, Red Chinese embassy spokesmen said Wednesday.

Enters guilty plea

In a surprise move, Keith Galloway, 23, city, appeared in the Putnam Circuit Court Wednesday and changed his plea to guilty to a charge of escaping from the State Farm last October.

When previously arraigned, Galloway pleaded not guilty and asked for a jury trial.

His trial was scheduled to have started this morning.

Judge Francis N. Hamilton sentenced him to serve 1-5 years in the State Reformatory at Pendleton.

Richard Nixon will speak at Hoosier GOP rally

INDIANAPOLIS UPI —Two Republican state officials Wednesday endorsed the presidential aspirations of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon who will speak Feb. 10 at an Indiana GOP rally at Washington.

Four elected state officials and three party leaders announced plans for the rally at a news conference here Wednesday. The conference became a springboard for a discussion of GOP presidential politics including an endorsement of Nixon by State Treasurer John K. Snyder and State Auditor John Gallagher.

Secretary of State Edgar Whitcomb and State School Supt. Richard D. Wells said they liked Nixon but did not want to go on record at the present time in favor of any specific presidential hopeful.

All four state officials are expected to be candidates for statewide office this year and their election chances will depend to a considerable extent upon the party's presidential nominee.

Snyder will serve as chairman of the Nixon rally which he said would be "reminiscent of the days of Abraham Lincoln and of the cornfield conference which former Sen. Homer Capehart, R-Ind., held some 30 years ago" near Washington.

Tickets for the rally will range from $2.50 to $100 and Snyder said all of the money raised would be retained for the use of the state party organization.

Buena Chaney, GOP state chairman, was asked what sort of budget he hoped to have for the 1968 campaign and replied "I'd like a million to a million and a half dollars."

Chaney pointed out, however, that the budget had not yet been set. Dr. O. C. Carmichael Jr., chairman of the Indiana Republican Citizens Finance Committee, and Richard Foltz, the state party organization's new treasurer, said they hoped the budget would be set by March.

Carmichael said he hoped that all of the candidates or potential candidates for the party's presidential nomination would appear in the state for fund-raising affairs.

In memory

In memory of Mary Elizabeth O'Neal, who departed this life one year ago today, Jan. 11. One year ago from her little home Just at the break of dawn. One dear treasure of our heart Took wings to her heavenly home.

Yes, we were with you, Mother dear You couldn't say goodbye. Your treasure wasn't here, Mom. It was on the other side. Oh, yes, we miss you, Mom. The friendly touch of your hand Will never be the same Since you left for that unknown land.

But, Mom, we wouldn't call you back, Not to this world of pain. Your sufferings are over and your sorrows are gone. The Master planned you a perfect flight. He sweetly showed you heaven so bright. Our tears and sorrows are still with us, Mom. Yes, your chair is still empty too; We only wish we were as well off today as you.

Thru love and tender mercy we plan to make this flight. Where just a glimpse will be alright. Then again we'll feel your hand-shake so tight.

Sadly missed by husband, Bedford H. O'Neal and children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Card of Thanks

There are no words that are appropriate and there is not space enough in this entire paper to express the sincere appreciation for all the kindness and respect shown Mom, through all the floral arrangements, the food, the visits and kind words from so many, many good friends. So may we just put into words a feeling that is with us at all times—and say—simply, but sincerely—"Thanks."

Hints from Heloise

by HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

When eating out at a drive-in—especially if you have a batch of children—don't all order hamburgers or tuna fish sandwiches. Mix them up a little!

Last weekend we did this. I ordered tuna fish, my daughter got roast beef and my husband a hamburger. We asked that they either cut them in half or bring us a knife to cut them with.

Then we each had half a tuna sandwich and half a hamburger or roast beef. They do say that variety is the spice of life, you know!

Now, as another little afterthought, if you wrap your oldest paring knife in a paper napkin and keep it in your glove compartment, you can cut your own sandwiches anytime. Either in halves or fourths. And just think, if there are more than three in the family, it will really be like eating from a party plate.

Dear Heloise:

I made a little bag out of gauze, put some paste wax in it and keep it in a jar.

Anytime there's a drawer or door that sticks, I just rub it with this wax bag.

I like it better than soap because it doesn't crumble, and wax helps seal out the dampness which is usually the cause of drawers sticking because the wood swells.

Dear Heloise:

When we have TV dinner, I save the aluminum foil from the top of the trays, wash it and use it to wrap my baking potatoes.

Dear Heloise:

I have a good use for those junior-size baby food jars.

I keep all my mending supplies in one: Such as small assorted color spools of mending thread, needles, a pair of small scissors, and a little square of felt for pins.

I also use this same baby food jar as my darning egg! Because I'm the mother of three small children, I have to keep one step ahead of them. This way I have all my sewing supplies inside my improvised darning egg with the top screwed on too tight for them to open.

Two men killed in Wayne County

United Press International

Wayne today became the first county in Indiana to record more than one fatal traffic accident in 1968 when two men were killed in the crash of a car against a tree which raised the state's toll to at least 24 compared with 22 a year ago.

The victims were identified as Jon Fuller, 21, and Robert Umbstead, 25, both of Richmond. Police said their car skidded on an icy portion of Indiana 121 east of Richmond and smashed into a tree. Fuller was the driver.

John Mullin, 26, Richmond, another passenger, was treated at Reid Memorial Hospital in Richmond and released.

The accident raised Wayne County's 1968 toll to four. Two other persons were killed Saturday on another road when their car also hit a tree.

Of the first 24 deaths recorded since Jan. 1, seven involved cars or trucks hitting trees.

BLAMES PAINTING

PARIS UPI — Police today held a 67-year-old retired engineer accused of slashing Rubens' painting of "The Virgin of the Angels" in the Louvre Museum Monday. He told museum guards the painting gave him "the evil eye."

Vows Exchanged

Wedding vows were exchanged on December 30, 1967 by Miss Mary Kathryn Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David J.

Murphy of Indianapolis, and Sp. 4 Richard Alan Cooper, formerly of Greencastle. The groom is the son of Mrs. George Gaw of Plainfield and the late Dewey E. Cooper.

The double ring ceremony was conducted by Reverend Louis T. Goote, celebrant, in the Little Flower Catholic Church in Indianapolis.

The bride's gown was a beautiful creation of Alencon lace tiers, over layers of lace. Her flowing train was also made of layers of lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and red roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Rosalyn Kuntz, Indianapolis; the matron of honor was Mrs. David J. Murphy Jr., Indianapolis, sister-in-law of the bride. The bridesmaids were Misses Rosemary Murphy, Indianapolis; Molly Murphy, Bloomington, both sisters of the bride; Martie Staab, Indianapolis; and Mrs. Steven Terry, Greencastle, sister of the groom. They wore full length gowns of green velvet, featuring crepe sleeves and gathered trains. Their bouquets were cascades of red carnations with holly.

The flower girl was Miss Katie Agresta and the ring bearer was her brother, Larry Agresta.

The best man was David Walbring of Terre Haute. Serving as ushers were David J. Murphy Jr., Indianapolis; Alex Murphy, Indianapolis; Richard Gaw, Louisville, Kentucky; Steven Terry, Greencastle, and James Gooch, Greencastle.

The couple will live in Fort Hood, Texas, where the groom is stationed with the United States Army.

NEW GAME

TSURUOKA, Japan UPI — The bank was giving his mother a bad time over her application for a loan. So the 12-year-old boy decided to get the money his own way.

He sent a note to bank officials demanding 10-million yen (about $27,778) or face the prospect of having the bank blown up.

Neither happened, and the youngster, who told authorities he got the bomb idea while watching television, was severely reprimanded.

Russ cosmonaut makes prediction

MOSCOW UPI — A Soviet cosmonaut said Tuesday the Soviet Union may "in the near future" send as many as 10 men to such planets as Mars or Venus.

Konstantin P. Feoktistov, who also designs spaceships, predicted future Soviet rockets may be powered by nuclear engines.

Feoktistov, who rode a three-man "space bus" for 16 orbits Oct. 12-13, 1964, made the predictions in the magazine "Aviatsia i Kosmonavtika" (Aviation and Cosmonautics).

The interview was published in advance in the daily Soviet Litva, printed in the Lithuanian capital of Vilnius.

It reached Moscow just as the Soviet news agency Tass carried the comment from another Soviet cosmonaut, Pavel Popovich, that his studies at a Soviet military academy meant "we are getting down to our main business, preparation for new space flights."

In 1792, Congress authorized the first United States Mint to be built in Philadelphia.

Bainbridge and Russellville draw byes in County Tourney

Lloyd Cooper and Norman Evens

By FRANK PUCKETT, JR.

Bainbridge and Russellville were plucked out of the hat last night and tabbed as the two teams to play the byes in the Putnam County basketball tournament next week by the county coaches, principals, and athletic personnel at their annual dinner meeting at Torr's Restaurant.

Each of the six county schools were represented at the drawing. Norman Evens, Bainbridge High School principal, officiated the ceremonies and Greencastle Athletic Director Lloyd Cooper did the actual drawing.

Cloverdale and Reelsville were the first two teams drawn from the hat and matched for the first game to be played at 7:00 p.m. Thursday night. Fillmore and Roachdale were picked next, matching them against each other in the second game Thursday night beginning at 8:15 p.m. Bainbridge was drawn next, giving them the first bye. They will play the winner of the first game at 1:00 p.m. Saturday afternoon. The final team drawn was Russellville. They took the second bye and will play the winner of game number two at 2:15 p.m. Saturday afternoon. The championship tilt is slated for 8:00 p.m. Saturday night.

The tournament is slated for Thursday and Saturday, January 18 and 20, and is to be played in the Greencastle High School uptown gymnasium.

Twelve players can be played by each school instead of the limited ten as in previous years. The ruling was changed by the Indiana High School Athletic Association for the state basketball tournament and the group decided to go along with the IHSAA rules in the county tournament. Twelve players have always been certified, but only ten has been able to dress and participate. With the new ruling all twelve players can dress and take part in the games.

Russellville has drawn the bye two years running. Last year they were in the first bracket and met the winner of the Fillmore-Roachdale game, exactly the same position they face next week except for the fact all three teams are in the second bracket. Reelsville had the other bye in 1967, but they had the misfortune to draw undefeated Cloverdale in the first bracket this year.

In review of last year's tournament Roachdale beat Fillmore 80-69, Bainbridge took it on the chin from Cloverdale 76-85, Russellville was beaten by Roachdale 60-75, Reelsville bowed to Cloverdale 47-84, and Cloverdale emerged champion with a 88-67 win over Roachdale in the final. In comparison of this year's results during the regular season Cloverdale bombed Reelsville 87-61 when they met, Fillmore took advantage of Roachdale 82-69, Bainbridge hasn't tangled with Cloverdale yet but fell victim to Reelsville 62-74 in an early season battle, and Russellville has yet to meet Fillmore, but has beaten Roach-dale 62-57. Doors to the gymnasium are scheduled to open one hour before game time at each session and season tickets are to sell for $2.25 with single session tickets going for $1.00. If available, season tickets will be offered for sale at the doors of the gym Thursday night. Session tickets will be sold only at the door.

Columbus continues to pace prep ratings as number one

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Unbeaten Columbus, shooting for its third perfect season in recent years, continued to pace the Indiana high school basketball powers by a sizable margin today.

Going into this week's schedule with a 12-game winning streak, coach Bill Stearns' quintet led the United Press International coaches' board ratings for the fourth week in a row with its best showing of the season.

The experts gave Columbus 14 of 20 first-place votes for 191 points, just nine short of a perfect score. That left Lafayette, the runnerup for the fourth week, well back with 164 points. The Broncos collected only one first-place vote while third-place East Chicago Roosevelt got four and a total of 149 points.

Sixth-ranked Evansville North, the defending champ, got the other first-place vote for games through last Saturday.

Indianapolis Washington, which battles Columbus here in Saturday's "game of the week," and Vincennes also retained last week's berth in eighth and ninth place, respectively.

For the first time this season, no newcomer managed to crash the "Big 10." But Indianapolis Shortridge and Southport were promoted along with Michigan City, while Fort Wayne Central slipped in the elite.

Shortridge, like the top three also unbeaten, climbed from fifth to fourth and Southport from seventh to fifth. Michigan City was elevated from a tie for ninth to seventh.

Fort Wayne's Tigers, knocked from the perfect ranks by Anderson last weekend, skidded from fourth to 10th.

Anderson and Richmond, like Lafayette, members of the strong North Central Conference, brought up the second 10 deadlocked for 11th place.

The breakdown, with first places and total points:

1. Columbus (14) 191
2. Lafayette (1) 164
3. E. C. Roosevelt (4) 149
4. Indianapolis Shortridge 102
5. Southport 84
6. Evansville North (1) 83
7. Michigan City 62
8. Indianapolis Washington 51
9. Vincennes 45
10. Fort Wayne Central 36½
11. Richmond, Anderson 21
12. Shelbyville 20½
13. Marion 16
14. East Chicago Washington 12
15. Carmel 10½
16. Evansville Reitz 8½
17. Hammond Noll, Gary Roosevelt 6
18. Elkhart, Fort Wayne Catholic 3
19. Jasper, Fort Wayne Elmhurst 2
20. Rockville, Oolitic, Goshen 1.

Cub wrestlers host tonight to Crawfordsville

Coach Joe Fiedler says, "Crawfordsville's grapplers make up one of the best high school wrestling teams in the state, but when they come to town tonight the Cubs are going to go for the win."

Fiedler talked about the match, which starts at 7:00 with a reserve team meet at 6:00, this morning and said he thought the Cubs would make it a good meet.

The Cubs go into the meet with a not-so-hearty 2-7 record, losing to tough Crispus Attucks Tuesday, 41-3. Phil Clark, 95-pounder, was the only Greencastle wrestler to win in the meet, but the coach says the score is misleading. "Our boys could have won any number of matches by just remembering one or two pointers," Fiedler also said the Greencastle team was in better physical shape than the Indianapolis crew.

Tonight's meet is held at the high school.

Netolicky and Brown lead Pacers to 105-79 victory

By United Press International

All-Stars Bob Netolicky and Roger Brown showed why they were chosen Wednesday night by combining for 55 points in leading the Indiana Pacers to a 105-79 victory over the Minnesota Muskies.

Netolicky scored 28 points and Brown 27 as the Pacers romped to victory at Indianapolis, where the first American Basketball Association All-Star contest was held Tuesday night. The loss dropped the Muskies to second place in the Eastern Division.

In other games Willie Somerset's field goal earned Houston a 122-120 victory over Anaheim; Denver defeated Kentucky 99-83 and Pittsburgh tripped Dallas 123-120.

Somerset wound up with 28 points. Warren Davis and Larry Bunce each hit 24 for the Amigos.

Wayne Hightower and Larry Jones each scored 22 points in Denver's victory. Jim Ligon topped Kentucky with 18.

Charlie Williams netted two three-point field goals and Art Heyman hit one long-range jumper as the Pipers snapped a five-game Dallas winning streak. Connie Hawkins led Pittsburgh with 24 points while John Beasley scored 34 for the Chaps.

SHORT SIGNS

PHILADELPHIA UPI—Left-hander Chris Short, who tumbled to a 9-11 record last year after being a 20-game winner in 1966, has signed with the Philadelphia Phillies for the 1968 season.

Dave DeBusschere scored 27 points and yanked down 20 rebounds for Detroit, but his effort couldn't match San Diego's surprising strength. John Barnhill led the Rockets with 22 points.

Backstairs at the White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON UPI — Backstairs at the White House: If Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York really has it in the back of his mind to try for the Democratic presidential nomination this year, there is strong evidence that he still is short of a final decision.

What evidence? In plain public view, he gets sore at news photographers and this is something an active candidate does not do.

A tiny item tucked away in a recent edition of Women's Wear Daily said that when the Robert Kennedys arrived at Twin Falls, Idaho, for a skiing Christmas holiday in Sun Valley, "a disgruntled Bobby showed annoyance with a couple of photographers."

A genuine, committed candidate would suffer the most heinous indignities from knights of the lens ranging from stepped-on toes and barked shins to bedroom close-ups.

This is one of the peculiarities of any national election year. Superficially or not, candidates for a few months become the smiling friends of all mankind.

President Johnson, for example, dislikes having his picture made from behind, sometimes to the point of barking at offending cameramen—if an aide does not do it first.

But not lately. In recent weeks, when photographers have been admitted to the Presidential presence, and this is quite often, they have not only been allowed, but encouraged to point their lenses from any angle.

It now seems difficult to recall, but during the 1960 campaign when Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was pregnant, news photographers were allowed to make pictures almost at will in the John F. Kennedy residence in Georgetown. These pictures showed Mrs. Kennedy in all sorts of domestic poses and all were done with charming, disarming frankness.

But came the election and this sort of thing ended. To be sure,

SEOUL, Korea UPI — Communist North Korean patrol boats kidnaped a South Korean fishing boat Sunday, South Korean authorities said Monday. Six South Korean boats were captured Saturday, despite increased government protection in the waters near the north-south military demarcation line.

OFF and RUNNING

Tony D. Manuel

Buzz Bomb! Where? What the heck is a buzz bomb? I'm sure if you are a new resident of Putnam County you have heard these words uttered before. Well, my friends, a buzz bomb is that thing which is mounted on the southwest corner of the courthouse lawn in downtown Greencastle. I'm sure you've seen it many times. I, myself, asked these same questions so I decided to look into the matter and find out just what a buzz bomb is and how it got on our courthouse lawn. A buzz bomb is a rocket type weapon which was fired over London during World War II by the Germans. I called Frank Durham the other day and he gave me some information and the approximate date on which it was dedicated. So, checking back into the old files of The Daily Banner I found that the dedication was held on Armistice Day of 1948. The Greencastle Veterans of Foreign Wars is the main organization responsible for the war monument. They contributed about $5,000 toward it. Plus, they got much satisfaction by aiding in the erection of a fitting memorial to the seventy-odd men from Putnam County who died in World War II. I am also told that we have one of the only real buzz bombs left in this country. The war memorial stone weighs over 44,000 pounds. It's made of Indiana limestone which came from Bloomington. The dedication of this World War II monument must have been a great day for the residents of Putnam County. A large crowd was on hand to see the many dignitaries who came to celebrate with the townsfolk. Since so many people went to so much trouble to give our fine community a war memorial, don't you think something should be done to preserve the looks of it over the years? I don't know what you do to one, maybe give it a coat of paint once a year, or a good polish job every now and then. But it seems to me we should take more pride in what our forefathers have given to us. And it really wouldn't take that much effort on our part.

George Hecko sent this clipping to us from the Christian Science Monitor of Jan. 5, 1968. It is entitled "White collar crime" and goes like this. "Crime in the streets and crime syndicates have captured a lot of headlines in the press. The other day, Attorney General Ramsey Clark spoke about 'white collar crime' — embezzlement, fraud, swindling, price-fixing, tax evasion" which are 'often the acts of respected and successful people' and which 'wrest millions annually from the public. Few crimes so corrode moral standards,' Clark warned. In other words, crime in high places must be dealt with firmly and effectively if it is not to breed crime in low places."

TOKYO UPI — Acting President Suharto of Indonesia and Yugoslav President Tito will visit Japan in March and April, respectively, the government announced Monday.

COSTS INFLATED
TARBOLTON, Scotland UPI —Part time town clerk Adam Prentice has asked the local council to give him a pay raise.

"In view of the recent devaluation and the increase in the cost of living in the past 140 years I think my request for a rise is reasonable," he says. His salary: Five shillings—60 cents a year.

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD UPI — I'm afraid I disrupted a dinner party thrown by a friend of mine here recently. I don't especially like to impose television shop talk on such occasions, but I was forced into it there by a gentleman I didn't like very much. He is a television director. He is very ignorant about his own business. What galled me, I guess, is that I have met his kind of mentality at such gatherings from coast to coast—the sort of all-around show business expert on television who hardly ever really watches the home tube outside of his own work, but is certain the medium is very bad. I don't mind a fellow who can cite me chapter and verse. But I have been astounded in mingling with many television people — commercial and intellectual figures — to find out how rarely some look at their own medium.

Of course there are the pros who do watch just about everything worth watching, as they very well should in their business. But here I was face to face with another fraud, and, of all things, I found myself almost defending television.

It was a very bad year, last year, he said. Oh, I said. I asked him whether, by chance, he had seen the four-part study of the Warren Commission Report. Well, only a bit, he said. Did he see the four-hour program on Africa? Unfortunately he caught only a few minutes. Did he see the exclusive hour on Khrushchev? No. Did he see the study of Jim Garrison's investigation of the Kennedy assassination? No. Did he see Garrison's rebuttal? No.

Did he see Ted Yates' "The Battle for Asia"? No. Did he see the French documentary "The Anderson Platoon"? No. Did he see the conversation with Eric Hoffer? No, but he heard about it. Did he see the hour on homosexuality? No. Did he see CBS' exploration of the possible therapeutic uses of mind-opening drugs? No.

How about the charming hour entitled "The Italians"? Yes, he caught that — had forgotten it. Did he see "How Israel Won the War"? No. The hour about press coverage of trials? No. The program about Cortez? No. What about "Mark Twain Tonight"? Yes, he saw it. And "The Investigation"? No, missed it. And the Frank Sinatra hour? Yes, saw it. And "The Diary of Anne Frank"? Missed it.

And the program about Gauguin, and the National Geographic specials, and "At the Drop of Another Hat" and "Diary of a Madman"? No to all four. I asked him about a few more shows and then just gave up. My host said it was a successful evening.

Wall street chatter

NEW YORK UPI — Wright Investors Service feels the first week of trading provided what could be the pattern for the remainder of the year. The company feels the trend has switched from the glamor stocks, which dominated in 1967, to the more "defensive" issues, including the blue chips which have been undervalued for some time.

Stanley Heller & Co. has a similar view and feels the market for the next few months will continue to reflect interest in the quality stocks, "at the expense of some of the more volatile equities which already have appreciated substantially in the past year."

Hayden, Stone Inc. believes the Dow Jones averages and some of the growth and glamor stocks apparently have "... approached a temporarily overextended position." But the company feels no major top has been reached by the market and it does not advise general selling at the present time.

the least one could do in a given hand, and stopping at a part score seemed to her the height of utility.

So far as bidding the slam was concerned, Sylvia had an entirely different reason for doing that. She had just learned about the 750-point bonus for making a vulnerable slam, and she was not likely to pass up such an excellent opportunity for a good score.

West doubled, of course, holding two trump tricks and sundry other values.

Sylvia won the diamond lead and immediately finessed the queen of spades. After ruffing a diamond, she cashed the ace of clubs, discarding a spade, and trumped a club.

Next she ruffed a diamond and a club, cashed the ace of spades, and ruffed her last diamond in dummy and the third round of spades in her hand.

By this time ten tricks had been played and Sylvia had won them all. Her last three cards were the A-J-10 of hearts. She now led the ten, hoping in some vague way to slip this trick by West.

However, West won with the queen, but since he had to return a heart, Sylvia made the slam.

Sylvia took the hand in stride, as was her custom, but West, who had been struck absolutely speechless by the outcome, assumed an unmistakably apologetic expression when East asked him why he had doubled.

One of the first hands that made the boys at the club sit up and take notice of Sylvia was this one. She had been a member of the club for scarcely a week, and had been playing bridge for little more than that, when this deal occurred.

It is certainly possible you may not approve of Sylvia's three heart bid. Having opened with only eleven high-card points and hearing partner respond in your void suit, you might think it more expedient to sign off with two hearts. But, unfortunately, point count and signoff were words not yet in Sylvia's vocabulary.

By BENNETT CERF

MR. MacGREGOR went to Wales on business, and called his wife in New York to congratulate her on her birthday. "Just where are you calling from?" she asked. "To be exact," he answered impatiently, "from Plas Penrhyn, Penrhyn Deudrath, Merioneth. I'd spell it for you, dear, but I'm paying personally for this call."

A resourceful radio announcer arranged to do a local broadcast from the city dog pound, and as listeners heard a background chorus of mournful barking by the stray dogs, they were told that if they contributed just one dollar to the pound, they not only would save one animal's life but would be presented with the dog as well.

A week later the happy director of the dog pound called up the radio announcer to tell him, "What a hit that broadcast of yours made! The dollar bills have been pouring in so fast, I've had to hire three more dog catchers to fill the orders!"

Woman to Woman

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK UPI — It's too early in the game for Chuck and Lynda Robb to have a bridge or building named after them.

But the newlyweds might be tickled to know that a maker of children's togs has named a pink pique coat, dress and matching roller for spring after them.

The "Chuck and Lynda" seen during an 11-day fashion marathon in New York, was in romantic company. Antony and Cleopatra had an outfit named after them. Ditt for Romeo and Juliet.

The shows of togs for children featured outfits with giveaway names, too.

The "Drum Major" in the Joseph Love collection, for example, featured a navy cape with red braid. A life saver coat was made of a navy and white lifesaver print. It was worn over a white dress.

For jet set children, seen everywhere, smart outfits were named "The Met," "Philharmonic Hall," and "Palm Beach." The latter was a high waisted provincial print sun dress with matching pants.

Highlights of collections from pace-setting makers of children's togs:

—Joseph Love, Inc., endorsed the short lengths for children and has—for 50 years. The firm also endorsed knits and drizzle coats in paintbox colors. For Easter, think of lilies and a snappy cape with matching dress in bonded orlon knit. Such a costume has been accepted by the Metropolitan Museum of Art for their costume institute's permanent collection. Floral prints abounded. The same for all-over pleated fashions. Play pant dresses in the collection included one dubbed "The Butterfly."

—Helen Lee's collection of high-fashion dresses bearing her name and sold in Saks Fifth Avenue and other key shops nationwide was not a testing-ground for cutest ideas, she said. "The dresses an elegant woman buys for her child will, like her own, have the clean lines she appreciates herself and wants her child to appreciate."

Part of the chic in her collection was achieved by what was described as "things on things." —Large patterns printed on ultra-firm surface, of weaves of pique, brocade and damask.
